CHARLIE COX RUNS WITH SCISSORS

*By Michael McKeever
 Directed by James Barton*
 Charlie Cox has spent his life taking no chances, when startling news from his doctor propels him on a journey to find the meaning of his life. Death and Love become his traveling companions in this romantic comedy fantasy. At a motel in the middle of nowhere, he stumbles upon the great love of his life and Love and Death get to fight for Charlie's soul. With warmth, humor and humanity, Charlie Cox shows how sometimes all it takes is a little death to help you learn to really live.

GLASS MENAGERIE

*By Tennessee Williams
 Directed by Michael McGarty*
 An American classic, this beautifully drawn memory play takes place in 1930's St. Louis. Tom, an aspiring poet, toils in a warehouse to support his mother, Amanda, and crippled sister, Laura. The play revolves around Tom's efforts to escape his stifling home life, and Amanda's efforts to find a husband for the painfully shy Laura. The drama unfolds the night she convinces Tom to invite a friend to meet, and hopefully woo, Laura. This moving play's themes still apply today.

SYLVIA

*By A.R. Gurney
 Directed by Russell Greene*
 Sparks fly when middle-aged Greg brings home his new love, a stray pooch named Sylvia. Sylvia adores and worships Greg. His wife is not so smitten, and a love triangle develops into a humorous struggle for power. This sweet, looney play explores the magical interaction that takes place between both man and wife, and humans and canines. It's for anyone who has ever owned a dog, loved a dog, or wanted to wring a dog's neck.

TITLE OF SHOW!

*Book by Hunter Bell,
 Music and Lyrics by Jeff Brown
 Directed by Donnie Baillargeon*
 An original musical based on the lives of four people and a musical they create. This production about "two guys writing a musical about two guys writing a musical" chronicles its own journey from inception to opening night on Broadway. And through this journey - chock-full of laughs, surprises and fantastic songs - these four friendships are tested and changed. The Off-Broadway musical sensation, that became a bona-fide Broadway hit.
